EFFORT KILL ROOSEVELT FAILS. MAYOR CERMAK SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Shooting of Cermak Shocks Chicago; His Record Is Aggressive

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 16.—(P)—The following bulletin on Mayor Cermak's condition was issued at the hospital at noon: "Mayor Cermak is resting much easier, has slept part of the morning (pulse 98, temperature 99, respiration 14). No unfavorable developments have arisen to the present time." (Signed) Dr. J. W. Snyder, Dr. E. S. Nichol, Dr. T. V. Hutson."

By J. A. RAWLINGS
Associated Press Staff Writer.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—(P)—Shocked by the news that its anti-gang crusading and "World's Fair" mayor had been shot down in Miami by a would-be assassin, Chicago awaited today the outcome of Anton J. Cermak's condition with anxiety and hope for his recovery.

The first reports that the mayor had been shot by the gunman who failed to kill the life of President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt were followed by speculation that a gangland plot might have been responsible because of Cermak's determination to drive all hoodlums out of Chicago before the World Fair opens in June, only to be discounted later by officials.

While the mayor lay gravely wounded in a Miami hospital the police continued the anti-gang drive ordered by the mayor some time ago.

Chief of Detectives William Shoemaker sent police squads into underworld haunts in search of suspicious persons.

The detective chief also ordered the arrest of Jack "Machine Gun" McGurn, reputed gunman for the Capone gang, and William "Three-Fingered" White, both of whom were seized by detectives last Tuesday, but who were released shortly before news of the attempted assassination reached Chicago.

Miami officials were asked by Shoemaker to arrest 18 Chicagoans reported seen in Florida recently.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, however, after a conference with police expressed a belief that no gangland motive was responsible.

"My only official interest," he said, "was to learn whether there were any Chicago gangsters involved. Evidently there was none."

Kansas City Man

Extortion Fails

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 16.—(P)—Outwitted by a 19-year-old nurse maid from the Ozarks and the wife of the banker whose home he had invaded, an extortionist took his life as police cornered him in the home of D. Crosby Komper.

The extortionist, identified by police as K. W. Lattin, 34, an unemployed son of a rooming house proprietor here, voiced threats of death against Mrs. Komper, Ann Wilde, the nurse maid, and Mrs. Komper's 9-year-old daughter, Sally.

The chief executive's deep feeling was felt all through official and unofficial Washington in every corner as details spread in an ever widening circle there were words of anger, shock and surprise.

Speaker Garner, the vice-president-elect, was awakened and expressed his disturbance over the news. Friends of Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, one of those shot, poured out their sympathy and regret.

The president himself had retired early last night. Suddenly the communications office of the executive mansion burst into jubilant activity.

News reporters all at once poured in reports by telephone of the shooting of five and the fortunate escape of Mr. Roosevelt from the bullet.

UNCONCERNED ABOUT HIMSELF THURSDAY

EN-ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT-ELECT ROOSEVELT TO NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—(P)—Traveling away from Miami, the scene of his attempted assassination, President-elect Roosevelt today sent the following message he had promised to President Hoover about the condition of the victims who got his shots:

"Have just visited hospital and seen the patients. The mayor had a fair night as did Mrs. Gill. The other three are on rapid road to recovery."

Talking over the incident with members of his party on the train, Mr. Roosevelt said he found "Tony Cermak still talking business at the hospital today and very concerned about the pay for the school teachers."

The president-elect seemed unconcerned about himself and the five shots fired at him. He was deeply grieved about the five persons who received the shots.

Professor Raymond Moley, war debts expert, accompanied Mr. Roosevelt on the train northward.

The Miami police and secret service men hurried themselves on Zangara and the cry of "kill him" rose from the infuriated crowd. Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago, a close friend of Mr. Roosevelt, was seriously wounded by one of the bullets and four other persons were also shot. The assassin, Joe Zingara, also known as Giuseppe Zangara, was immediately set upon and roughly handled before police were able to rescue him and place him in jail.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—(P)—The senate today adopted the Blaine resolution for repeal of the prohibition amendment, with protection for dry states from liquor imports, ratification to be by state conventions.

It now goes to the house. Only this morning Speaker Garner predicted that if the resolution were adopted by the senate in the form that it finally was, it would be approved by the house under suspension of the rules Monday.

MISS ELISE MILLER TO DIRECT FASHION SHOW ON FRIDAY

The usher on duty throughout all the chief executive's waking hours had gone to bed, and there was a delay before a white house secretary could get word beyond the door of Mr. Hoover's bedroom.

Aroused, the president quickly dictated this message to the man who shortly will take his place as leader of the nation:

"Together with every citizen I rejoice that you have not been injured.

He shall be grateful to you for news of Mayor Cermak's condition."

Mr. Hoover waited before returning to bed to receive further word of the condition of the mayor of Chicago. He inquired also for the four other wounded.

A secret service guard was posted not far from the president's bedroom door throughout the night.

Two uniformed patrolmen, wearing the gold badge of the white house detail, paced back and forth before the front door of the mansion. Another officer stood inside. Other patrolmen, watched at the rear of the house.

Through the white house switchboard long distance telephone lines were connected to gather in first-hand word of the Miami shooting, and to dispatch secret service orders.

terms beginning on the fifteenth, thirty-second and forty-fifth Mondays.

Local Court Terms.

Navarro county terms of district court would begin in this district on the ninth, twenty-second and thirty-first Mondays, and continue for six weeks each.

Under the 68th dis. act arrangement with Hill county, Navarro county would have three six-week terms beginning on the first, fifteenth and thirty-first Mondays of the year. Hill county terms would begin on the sixth, twenty-first, thirty-second and forty-fifth Mondays. The first term would be for nine weeks and the other terms would be for seven weeks.

According to the pending legislation, the following courts would be abolished:

Courts to be Abolished.

Thirteenth, twentieth, special thirty-second, forty-third, fifty-fifth, fifty-sixth, fifty-seventh, fifty-eighth, forty-seventh, eighty-eighth, eighty-ninth, ninety-third, ninety-ninth, one-hundred-second, one-hundred-fourth, one-hundred-ninth, one-hundred-eleventh, one-hundred-twelfth, one-hundred-thirteenth, one-hundred-fourteenth, one-hundred-sixteenth, one-hundred-twenty-sixth, special district for Smith and Upshur counties, special for Rusk and Gregg counties, criminal district court for Tarrant county, two criminal district courts in Dallas county, criminal district court in Jefferson county, two criminal district courts in Harris county, criminal district court for Nueces, Kleberg, Willacy, Kennedy and Cameron counties.

The bill provides for all district clerks serving proposed abolished district courts to continue in office and serve their respective counties.

Scarborough Long Judge.

Hawkins Scarborough is judge of the Thirteenth judicial court here and has been for the past twelve years. Dr. Peaveyhouse is district court, having assumed office Jan. 1 this year.

It is understood here that the boundaries of Navarro, Hill and Ellis counties are practically unanimously opposed to the proposed re-districting arrangement, and a determined effort is to be made to have a continuous district court remain in Navarro county as heretofore.

The volume of legal business in Navarro county during recent years is regarded as of sufficient proportions to keep a district judge busy much of the time. A splitting up of Navarro county with Hill and Ellis counties into short terms of court would hamper rather than speed up litigation and criminal trials.

Four Terms Yearly.

The Navarro county district court year is divided into four terms of twelve weeks each excepting the July term of ten weeks under ordinary conditions.

Beauford H. Jester, president of the Navarro county bar association, and regent of the University of Texas, could not be reached for a statement regarding what action the bar would take Thursday. He was in Austin for a meeting of regents.

No announcement as to the time the bill will be reported back to the Legislature has been learned here.

REPORTER'S SHOULDER USED BY WOULD-BE ASSASSIN FOR ARM REST; DESCRIBES TUMULT

Mrs. Roosevelt Endangered By Railroad Cars

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President-elect, today was escorted by a policeman out of the city by way of a long string of railroad cars that had come within 20 feet of her at the Lehigh Valley station, shortly after her arrival here.

She had just alighted from her special train and was standing on one of the tracks, with members of her party and with Mayor Herman Bierholz and Miss Flora Rose, director of Cornell University's College of home economics. Neither Mrs. Roosevelt nor any of the other members of the party noticed the string of cars being backed in their direction until Motorcycle Policeman Edward J. Moore took Mrs. Roosevelt's arm and moved her off the tracks.

Mrs. H. P. Elvens, was reported resting all right Thursday afternoon at the Corsicana Hospital where she was admitted yesterday.

He is caged in a little steel-barred cell 21 floors above the ground in the Dade county jail.

ROME, Feb. 16.—(P)—The state patient of the Roosevelt assassin, Giuseppe Zangara, that he wanted to kill the king of Italy but never had a chance recalled the attempt on King Victor Emanuel's life March 14, 1912. But no one named Zangara was involved.

While the king and queen were driving to the Pantheon for a mass in commemoration of his father, the late King Humbert, who was assassinated in 1900, three shots were fired at the royal couple by Antonio D'Alba, 21-year-old plasterer of Rome.

Their majesties were untouched but a Major Lang was seriously wounded. D'Alba was arrested immediately and an investigation revealed no others involved. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Police were searching the records but had not yet found anything concerning Zangara. If his age is 38, police say it is unlikely that he participated in the plot of 1912.

Newspapers expressed horror at the attempt on Mr. Roosevelt, but made no reference to the king.

SOME HISTORY ON ASSASSINATIONS IN WORLD SINCE 1872

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT IS SECOND ROOSEVELT TO BE TARGET FOR ASSASSIN

BY W. R. WALTON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—(P)—For the second time in history an assassin has fired at a Roosevelt without fatal results.

Last night at Miami, Fla., President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt narrowly missed being shot as the bullets meant for him struck four other persons.

In 1812 at Milwaukee, Wis., the manuscript of a speech he was about to make and an eyeglass saved former President Theodore Roosevelt from what would possibly have been a fatal wound.

At Milwaukee, a bullet had occurred on Oct. 14 during the presidential campaign of 1912 when the former president was a candidate on the progressive ticket.

He had just left his hotel to address a political meeting and was standing in his automobile acknowledging cheers of admirers when John Schrank, New York saloon keeper, stepped forward and fired.

The bullet struck Roosevelt in the breast but it was deflected when it hit the bulky manuscript and the eye glass. Although he was wounded, Roosevelt made his speech. Afterward he came to Chicago and was in a hospital for a week. Schrank was committed to the hospital for the insane at Oshkosh, Wis.

All Paid Extreme Penalty.

Assassins of presidents have all paid the supreme penalty for their crime.

John Wilkes Booth, the actor, who stepped out on the stage of Ford's theatre at Washington on the night of April 14, 1865, to fire a fatal shot at President Lincoln, was shot to death himself 12 days later at Frederick, Md., by Dr. Charles Leale.

President Garfield's killer, Charles J. Guiteau, was hanged June 30, 1882, at Washington. Garfield was shot July 2, 1881, at a Washington railroad station and died the following Sept. 19.

President McKinley died in Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 14, 1901, eight days after he was wounded at the Pan-American Exposition by an anarchist, Leon Czolgosz, who died in the electric chair Oct. 29, 1901, at the Auburn, N. Y., state prison.

History has resounded with the crack of assassin's bullets. One was heard around the world—the killing of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria-Hungary and his consort in 1914. It was the spark that set off the world war.

The wounding of Mayor Anton Cermak, of Chicago, at Miami by one of the bullets intended for the president-elect marked the latest attempt by a Chicago mayor to silence the assassin.

Carter H. Harrison, Sr., of Chicago, in 1893, the year of the city's Columbian Exposition. This year Chicago is preparing to present to the world its Century of Progress Exposition.

The year 1900 saw the assassination of William Goebel, democratic claimant to the governorship of Kentucky, and in 1905 former Governor Frank Steenberg of Idaho met a similar fate.

Foreign Victims.

A chronological list of heads of foreign governments who died at the hands of assassins since 1872 follows:

gram requesting that the Roosevelt boys, Franklin, Jr., and John, be told in the morning and assured that their father was all right.

"Franklin is all right, for which I am very, very thankful," she said. "Therefore I see no reason why I should not go to Ithaca as I am supposed to do. There is nothing I can do by staying here."

Mrs. Roosevelt received the news from her daughter, Mrs. Curtis Dall as she was entering her house in East 65th street. She had attended earlier in the evening a meeting of employees of a motion picture firm.

Her only comment was: "This is what happens to you if you are in public life." She immediately put in a long distance call for her husband, whom she located at the hospital in Miami with Mayor Cermak, and, while waiting for the call to be completed, went in and told his mother what had happened.

"She took it very well," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

Woman Emerges Heroine Attempt Kill Roosevelt

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 16.—(P)—A tall, little woman, who forgot her own danger to fling herself upon the assassin trying to kill the president-elect of the United States, emerged today as the real heroine of the Miami drama of bullets.

Excitedly, her eyes dancing, Mrs. W. E. Cross of Miami said she was standing on the same bench with the assassin when he opened fire over the heads of the throng, directly at the president-elect's party.

"When President-elect Roosevelt stood up to make his speech," she said, "so many stood up in front of me that I couldn't see, so I got up on a bench."

"This man (Zangara) stood up with me, and the bench almost folded up. Then I saw he had a pistol and he began shooting toward the president-elect. I grabbed his hand, which held the pistol, pushed it up in the air and called for help."

"Tom Armour (man standing nearby) also grabbed his hand, and we held it up in the air so he couldn't shoot any more. By that time some men were shooting him."

Chicago's 59-year-old mayor, who from the lowly position of an immigrant breaker-boy in an Illinois coal mine to the mayorship of the country's second largest city, went to Florida last week to recuperate from a cold and to confer with Mr. Roosevelt and his associates on political and other matters.

Mayor Cermak, of the Democratic national committeeman of Illinois.

Ever since his elevation to the mayoralty from his position as president of the county board of commissioners of Cook county, there have been unverified reports that he was the recipient of death threats, but nevertheless officials did not believe there was any possibility that they could have had any connection with the Miami shooting.

The mayor and State's Attorney Courtney, have got the full lums quieted down so much for any criminal tendency to have been involved," said County Treasurer Joseph E. McDonough.

Daughters Collapse.

The mayor's daughters, Mrs. R. V. Graham and Mrs. Frank J. Jirka collapsed when the news of the shooting was received.

Dr. Jirka, the mayor's son-in-law and personal physician, and director of the Illinois department of health, left Springfield by automobile for Evansville, Ind., to board a train for Nashville, Tenn., from whence he planned to go by airplane to Miami.

Special newspaper editions were issued, while thousands clamored for the latest news of the mayor's condition.

Expressions of sympathy came from all sides, regardless of political affiliations.

Mayor Cermak was described by Dr. Karl A. Meyer as being organically sound, but somewhat fatigued from the work and worry brought on by present economic conditions. Should he succumb to the wound the law provides that the city council shall name a successor from within its own ranks, to be elected after a special election, as he had.

Defeated Thompson.

Mr. Cermak became mayor following the overwhelming defeat he administered to William (Big Bill) Thompson, his republican opponent in 1931, when "Thompsonism" was held by him and his supporters to be the issue of the campaign.

His rise from the ranks of a laborer to his present position was slow but sure. Brought to America by his family when a year old from Kladno, a small town about 50 miles from Prague, in what was then Bohemia, he began work years later in a coal mine at Elwood, Ill. His father was a miner before him. When 17 he made his way to Chicago, where he supplemented his country-town education by going to night school and working as a wood-hauler. Later he went into a real estate project. Meanwhile, he was gaining political recognition by his election to various minor offices until he finally headed the county board, this time with Thompson for the mayoralty there were those who in opposition to Cermak sang:

"Tony, Tony, where's your rush-cut."

He showed them where it was by being elected by the largest vote ever received by a local mayoralty candidate.

being carried along and we put him in our car. He was alive but I was afraid he wouldn't last. I got my hand on his pulse and found none. He was on the seat with me and I had my left arm around him. He slumped forward. A detective from Miami standing on that side of the car was leaning over him. He said after we had one a couple of blocks he was afraid Cermak would not last.

"I, too, was fearful. Just then Cermak straightened up and I got his pulse. That was surprising. For three blocks I actually believe his heart had stopped.

"He held him all the way to the hospital and his pulse constantly improved. It seemed like 25 miles to the hospital."

"I talked to him all the way. I remember I said 'Tony, don't move—keep quiet—if you won't hurt if you keep quiet and remain perfectly still.'

"I found that a bullet—the one probably that hit Cermak—grazed the top of Clark's hand. His hand was all bloody and scratched.

"You know I knew Bill Sennott. I kidded him at the hospital this morning and told him they couldn't hurt him with a bullet in the head. It would just bounce off. I left him and take off at least 20 pounds."

LIFE OF WOULD-BE ASSASSIN TRACED IN NEW JERSEY CITIES

ZANGARA WAS BRICKLAYER AND PREACHED RADICAL IDEAS TO WORKMEN

HACKENSACK, N. J., Feb. 16.—(P)—A tall, little woman, who forgot her own danger to fling herself upon the assassin trying to kill the president-elect of the United States, emerged today as the real heroine of the Miami drama of bullets.

Excitedly, her eyes dancing, Mrs. W. E. Cross of Miami said she was standing on the same bench with the assassin when he opened fire over the heads of the throng, directly at the president-elect's party.

"When President-elect Roosevelt stood up to make his speech," she said, "so many stood up in front of me that I couldn't see, so I got up on a bench."

McQuillan came to Hackensack before dawn today and questioned the family of Frank Yann, where Zangara at one time lived.

The secret service man said he had completed his investigation of Zangara's activities in North Jersey, and would not return here.

Zangara was known here also as Joe Zangara, or Zingara, the bricklayer, who had been standing in the first hit. A bullet had struck him in the abdomen and an operation was contemplated as physicians were present. He had a little better than a fifty-fifty chance to live.

Shocked and startled by the gun play, Mr. Roosevelt waited to pick up the Chicago mayor, and sped to the hospital with him. He remained there to visit the other victims and canceled his train departure for New York until today.

Leon Czolgosz, after shooting President McKinley, said: "I wish you would be careful."

"We need you and men like you," the President-elect replied gently, leaning over the bed on which he lay his wounded friend and political ally.

As Roosevelt rode toward New York this afternoon, expressions of joy at the President-elect's escape and sorrow at the wounding of those who had stood by him were reflected by virtually every capital of the world.

Hoover, acting on the governor's orders called upon Chief Repperger of Hackensack and Chief John A. Murphy of Paterson to make a thorough investigation into the incidents and associates of Zangara.

According to Repperger's first report, Zangara obtained his citizenship two years ago and has never been in trouble with the police, according to a preliminary report made by Police Chief Frederick Repperger to John J. Toohey, secretary to Governor Moore.

Toohey, acting on the governor's orders, called upon Chief Repperger of Hackensack and Chief John A. Murphy of Paterson to make a thorough investigation into the incidents and associates of Zangara.

No Intimate Friends.

Elaborating this theme, Zangara said that he had once intended to kill the King of Italy but the plan had not worked out. He then, he said, he decided to kill President Hoover, but, hearing that Roosevelt was coming here, he substituted him as the target for his hate of authority and leadership.

The ramifications of the case and developments following it were legion, but one of the most striking was the manner in which not only the President-elect himself but also all the members of his family reacted to his close escape from death.

Mrs. Roosevelt learned of the shooting in New York but there was not even for a moment any suggestion of hysterical loss of control.

She remained calm and collected.

Rosario Candal, local contractor, described Zangara as an "inflammatory character."

Refreshing his memory about the bricklayer, he seemed positive that he was a radical, socialist and communist.

Mr. Roosevelt, having got the full story, had the man arrested.

Candal said he had employed Zangara on several jobs around Bergen county and said he had a reputation as a "lunch hour" taker.

Whenever a president was elected or took office, or king ascended a throne, Candal said, the bricklayer, with an audience of his fellow workers, would await the lunch hour on the job, then with wild gestures, he would denounce governments and the men in power, preach radical doctrines, and advocate the killing of government leaders.

the Deade county jail from the train Mr. Roosevelt boarded to go to New York.

Dr. Joel T. Boone, physician of President Hoover, called by telephone while the president-elect was at the hospital, Marvin McIntyre, the Roosevelt secretary, gave him a report.

Entering the room of Mayor Cermak, the president-elect said:

"You are looking fine. The first thing you know you will be back on your feet."

Cermak in a faint voice replied:

"I hope so. I hope it will be in time for the inauguration. Before you came I visited here with Jim Farley and Mac and we had a good time."

Mr. Roosevelt left the yacht of Vincent Astor shortly after 9 o'clock and proceeded by motor to the front of the outskirt of the city. He rode in the front seat with the chauffeur, Vincent Astor, accompanied him. An extra detail of police and secret service men surrounded Roosevelt at every turn.

Returning to the train immediately across the street from the jail holding Zangara, Roosevelt was greeted by a huge throng which cheered him. Upon reaching the back platform he turned, took off his hat, and waved a response to the greeting. Three service men were immediately at his service.

Reversing its previous action, the house judiciary committee today favorably reported the Eslick bill for heavy penalties for those who advocate overthrow of the government by force or resistance.

Pope also said that Zangara was asked to kill the King of Italy but he had never had a chance while in that country. He was said to have lost $200 recently at the dog races.

Newspaper clippings found on Zangara reported the movements of Mr. Roosevelt and police said one of the clippings told the story of the assassination of President McKinley.

According to their account Zangara purchased his pistol in a pawn shop here three days

MODERN MECHANICAL METHODS NOT SUCCEEDING IN RELIGION*

Kingdom Comes as a Plant Grows---Some Present Implications of the Parable of the Mustard Seed---Birds of Happiness That Lodge In Gospel Tree.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Is religion a machine of a plant? Does it progress by organization or by natural growth? Are we to devise a sort of mechanical technocracy for the future of the church; or may we still rely upon the sowing of seed?

Such questions are thrust upon us, not only by this Sunday school lesson, which will engage the minds of millions, but also by the stumping and slowing up of religious "Efficiency" in an era wherein the church has striven hard to approximate the methods and successes of the machine age. Our progressive leaders and our "experts" are all abashed by what is happening to their clever handiwork. Just when they had not religion almost as well organized as a modern commercial corporation, something slipped. The well-oiled machinery began to squeak and squeal. Speed unaccountably slowed down. And output fell off alarmingly as well as income. Things today are not all right with our elaborately institutionalized Christianity.

Just as the Church of Complacency was anemic and weak, we have seen the Church of the Success, 1929 model, that we just simply cannot content ourselves with the old-fashioned Bible ways.

It has seemed to many Christians, in responsible places, more important to be up-to-date and efficient than to be in accord with principles that are behind the times---nineteen hundred years behind the times, to be exact.

Now the Church's complacency is offering a new Jolt. Things have no turned out as expected.

Today, as Bishop Woodstock points out, "The times are affecting the Church more than the Church is affecting the times." In one of the major crises of human history, organized Christianity seems unable to prevent social disorganization and suffering, or to hinder the ominous growth of the war-mind in the world; or to satisfy the hungry hearts of the masses who are seeking a meaning for life. So let us confess our failure and our sins, we have tried in vain to do the Lord's work in the world's way.

Back to the Farm.

Mark collected, in his narrative a few of the sermon stories, or parables of Jesus. All are simple and close to earth in their figurativeness. Repeatedly, the Master set forth the Kingdom in the guise of the life of the farm. No body had to acquire a new vocabulary to get His meaning. He measured his presentation by people's capacity.

Thus, he likened the Kingdom to the growth of a mustard seed, planted in patient confidence that, however slowly, growth would come, and continue on to greatness. This story was told in the seed-time of the Kingdom. Jesus Himself was doing the sowing. Nobody who heard Him speak ever imagined for a moment that the world was His field, but would grow into a great harvest and now we all behold. The mustard seed of the parable has developed into a tree, larger and more benevolent than all others on earth.

Beyond All Counting.

Nobody has yet invented an adding machine that can keep accurate count of the growth of the Church. It defies all statistics. Numbers are the poorest indices of the progress of the Kingdom. I know a church that has a roll of nine hundred names on its roll, yet less than three hundred of these contribute to expenses or attend services; and most are definitely uninterested. In the statistical tabulations of the denominational year book, however, this appears as a strong church! On the other hand, I found on a visit to the Church at Anwoth Scotland, from which came Samuel Colthorpe's deathless sermon, that it was an old man who could not make an adequate vestry for a modern church. Power is not always in proportion to numbers.

Into the growth of the Kingdom goes more than the seed itself. Time---especially time, as Jesus said---soil and sun, moisture and air, and all the mysterious influences of the forces of nature, cause a tree to grow. No man can take credit for the progress of a plant; he may contribute, but at the best, he is mere co-operator. So it is with the Kingdom. The word is planted, often in timidity and self-depreciation, by preacher, Sunday school teacher, parent, writer or friend.

The sower's part is to sow in patience, leaving to nature the rest. Who can measure all the ambitions of heaven and earth, that combine to make a saint? or the influences of gods, heredity, of a favorable religious environment, of an aptitude for spirituality and of the chastening effects of adversity; yet after all the creation of a Christian character remains a mystery, to be explained only by heavenly influences.

Small Sticks In a Bundle.

Surely there was significance in the address aid by Jesus upon the smallness of the mustard seed. A spoken word, a written sentence, a gracious deed, an act of neighborliness---these seem trifling and trumpery; but from them grows destiny. To how many Sunday school teachers, has their work seemed scarcely worth-while? Those restless boys or gossiping girls appear so heedless and inattentive. Nevertheless, throughout long lives, the character and words of the Sunday school teacher may add to a formative and restraining influence. The sower of seed must have great faith in the forces of nature which give effect to the planting.

Into the teacher's emphasis upon the minuteness of mustard seed we may read the truth of the elements that make up the Kingdom's strength. Only a relatively few great names appear on the long roll of history's servants of the Kingdom of God. Mostly they have been lowly, folk, humble Hillsdale county farm fathers and mothers and neighbors at a meeting last night of officials, Paradoxically adopted the name of "Sons of God" for Rio Grande Valley farms.

The strength of the Kingdom is in the weakness of its members, and on a campaign to stabilize prices their trustful dependence upon their products. Satisfactory Power behind themselves. Just progress was reported in the common Christians, such as the movement and the situation was

We should welcome every honest attempt to purify religion of sham and error, to guard from vagary and caprice, to lift it up a little nearer to the full height and range of man's fundamental spiritual nature as a finite-infinite being; but the road to that desirable goal is not to begin by levelling man down to an object in space, to deal with him as one would deal with substances in a test-tube, and to limit him to those aspects of life than can be described with mathematical accuracy and explained in terms of antecedent and causes.---Rufus M. GOVERNOR SUBMITS FULL INFORMATION ON HIGHWAY FUNDS

GIVES SENATE DETAILED REPORT OF ALLEGED LOSS OF MILLION DOLLARS

AUSTIN, Feb. 16.---(P)---The Texas senate today resolved itself into a committee of the whole and made arrangements to start an investigation of allegations presented by Governor William A. Ferguson that the state highway department had sustained a loss of $1,000,000 in its administration over road funds.

Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo was chosen president of the committee. He named Senators Will M. Martin of Hillsboro, W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales, Walter Woodward of Coleman and Grady Woodward of Decatur a board of managers.

On motion of Senator Woodward the committee recessed until 10 a. m. tomorrow when it planned to start the taking of testimony concerning charges of Mrs. Ferguson that the highway commission had checked issued by two Texas counties on an Austin Trust company in payment for road work until securities deposited in escrow to secure them had depreciated until they were worth an average of forty cents on the dollar.

Governor Ferguson sent to the senate a message complying with a previous request that she provide it with more detailed information about the matter complained of.

It was provided that the highway commission would be entitled to all counsel it might desire.

The governor also was given permission to be represented by counsel and Moore Lynn, state auditor, was granted privileges within the bar of the senate during the investigation. The attorney general would be required to advise the senate and ask questions of witnesses.

The committee would have the power to subpoena witnesses and compel them to bring books or papers required.

When the senate met to consider the investigation the galleries were filled. As soon as the committee adjourned the spectators fled out.

AUSTIN, Feb. 16.---(P)---Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today gave to the senate detailed information on which she based a special message to the last legislature, claiming the state highway commission had lost in excess of $1,000,000 in highway funds by its method of handling those accounts.

The senate planned to resolve itself into a committee of the whole to investigate the allegations contained in the governor's message.

Governor Ferguson submitted information that he had been supplied by Hawkins Scarborough district judge in the case of the State of Texas vs. Robert W. Campbell, Dallas, charged by indictment with attempt to commit arson in connection with the attempted burning of the Sunlight Publishing company building, Sept. 26, due to the absence of a material witness.

The case was continued during the October term of district court when first called for trial.

Judge Scarborough announced the case would be tried at the April term of court.

UNCERTAINTIES

Public confidence can be restored only by a marked improvement in the tone of business and the elimination of those uncertainties which have a disturbing effect.
Confidence is a result,
not a cause, so the others must come first.

Confidence is at present waiting for business to show some signs of life, which business would do but for those elements which are beyond its power to control. Business cannot plunge pell-mell into a fog.

Manufacturers, merchants, bankers and financiers want to know whether the government will withdraw from the loan market and put its financial affairs in order;
they want to know what taxes to count on, whether tariff rates will be changed, whether there is to be any inflation of the currency, and whether there is to be an attempt to substitute legislation for economic laws to favor some particular class at the expense of the whole population.

There will be no great economic revival until these fundamental questions are decided. As long as they are unsettled business will be unsettled. How can industry or commerce plan ahead when so many vital factors affecting outlay, operation and possible profits remain uncertain?

Congress, therefore, is the arbiter of economic recovery. It must act and act quickly to end this melancholy waiting in the dark.

INTERNATIONAL BUCK PASSING

There is danger of taking too enthusiastically the British acceptance of Washington's invitation to a parley on debt settlements. It came with too many reservations and qualifications to be 100 per cent sincere.

Why can't decisions on the war debts be reached before the coming conference, on world economics? They are not to be discussed at that conference, at the request of President Hoover; and while directly related to the questions to be discussed they would not confuse those questions, no matter how thoroughly and openly debated. In fact it is difficult to see how any agreement on the other great international economic matters can be reached until the war debts have been finally disposed of.

One thing is clear. The British government does not intend to commit itself to anything, for political reasons at home.

Great Britain cannot,
however, ignore the tremendous effect an Anglo-American agreement on the debts would have upon the other debtors, and she has already admitted that the debt situation is crucial to every government.

FACT FINDERS

'Do the diplomats and politicians and "administrations" and "governments" think they are fooling the public with the current superfluity of fact-finding and fact-finders? Doesn't it ever occur to them that the little fellow is not swallowing this show of doing something?'

Another surplus to which the prolongation of the economic sleeping sickness may be attributed is the surplus of fact-finders.

Had the committee been able to function until 1940 it might have been able to demonstrate its claim that its accomplishments during this decade would surpass those of the last. Before passing out of the picture it laid the groundwork for an extensive campaign.

A LEADER NEEDED

President-elect Roosevelt must rule congress with an iron hand if his administration is to accomplish anything during the next year or two. A Democratic majority in both houses of congress is no guarantee of abject submission to the will of the white house. Perhaps the nation has no greater need today than a strong-minded, determined and domineering chief executive.

Look back through the years to the formation of the union. Every president who stood out conspicuously was a fighter.

George Washington was an autocrat in every sense of the word. Andrew Jackson was a tyrant. Abraham Lincoln saved the union by despotic rule. Congress early learned to respect Grover Cleveland's word as law. No king ever had more power than Woodrow Wilson had during the World war, and he exercised it.

Too many other presidents compromised, instead of ordered. Theoretically congress alone wields the legislative power, and while the president may recommend legislation, his duties are purely executive. But in practice congress seldom accomplishes anything of a constructive nature, without leadership from the white house.

Theodore Roosevelt's "big stick" was stuffed, but looked dangerous. Franklin D. Roosevelt's "big stick" must be "loaded" and be dangerous instead of merely looking dangerous.

The reaction to some of the names "mentioned" for posts in Roosevelt's cabinet is one of amazement.

A wise man knows the value of silence when a child begins to cross-examine him. But there is al-

AID FOR DEPOSITORS

Early in the depression period when many Pennsylvania banks were closing their doors because of frozen assets (chiefly mortgages) the state department of banking organized financial groups to acquire the assets of institutions in process of liquidation and thus expedite distribution to needy depositors.

Whereas resort was made to private initiative in Pennsylvania, Governor Ely, of Massachusetts, would have the state courts create a liquidating corporation for the same purpose. Under his plan the state government would take over the mortgages.

Governor Ely maintains that in sanctioning state banks the state extended a moral guarantee to the depositors of those institutions, so it is responsible, in a sense, for the losses of those depositors. That is going a little farther than even the depositors will go in their inevitable criticisms of their state banking department and legislature, and imposes a responsibility never assumed by governments in the regulation of private business.

Much can be said in favor of the scheme. It would release many millions in deposits which otherwise would be tied up during the slow process of liquidation and which will pay less than a hundred cents on the dollar if liquidation is made at present low realty and bond values. Against it there are two major objections. It necessitates a large loan upon which the public must pay interest, and the temptation to unload millions in inflated mortgages upon the state would be too great for the politicians and their friends to resist.

Yes, fact-finding and fact-finders effect a beautiful stall.

BEST SELLER

The best seller this season is a 400-page book which may not come under the classification of either fiction or non-fiction and yet may come under both. It is a list of federal jobs which may have new occupants after March 4.

As literature it belongs to neither the fiction nor the non-fiction fields, but as patronage it will be fiction to some and non-fiction to others. Moreover, the president-elect will have to treat many of these jobs as pure fiction if he is to fulfill his economy pledge.

COMMISSIONERS IN BUSY SESSION ON MONDAY AFTERNOONP. AND S. HOSPITAL BOARD NAMED; SEEK CONFERENCE WITH CONTRACTORS

Considerable business was transacted by the Navarro county commissioners court at its Monday afternoon session, including the appointment of a new P. and S. Hospital board, appointment of election officials for the next two years, reading of the minutes of former meetings, allowing of the closing of tax adjustments, etc.

Officials of the McElwraith Construction company were reported out of town and the commissioners decided that it desired to have a conference with the officials of the concern relative to when the optional lateral roads would be constructed. County Judge C. E. McWilliams advised County Engineer A. F. Mitchell to arrange a meeting to find out what was going to be done and get a definite statement and understanding of the situation.

Citizens were allowed except as noted on the claim dockets.

A bill for $6 for doctor and hospital bills was allowed. Robert Kinnemore, Kinnemore was injured when a section of fire escape at the court house fell some time ago.

The January deficit of the P. and S. hospital amounted to $400.67 and J. M. Tullos, county auditor, was authorized to transfer $400 from the general fund to the hospital fund.

The annual reports of Dock J. Martin, assessor; L. C. Morgan, county clerk; and Mrs. Joe Woods, tax collector; were presented and approved.

Authorized to Pay Note.

C. E. McWilliams, county judge; J. M. Tullos, county auditor; and L. C. Morgan, county clerk; were authorized to pay the notes due the First National Bank, approximating $25,000, when the money was available.

Considerable discussion was held relative to the sending of a delegation to Austin to meet before the State highway commission officials relative to trying to rush the construction of Highway 22. Plans have already been approved, and the court is especially desirous to get the contract let for the dirt and drainage structures and also the pavement on this highway from Corsicana to the boundary of Consolidated road district No. 1 near Pinkston as the board had expired. There had only been five members of the board recently, and Dr. S. H. Burnett was appointed as the sixth member. The other five named are hold-overs.

INDIAN RELICS ARE SHOWN HERE MONDAY
BY CHATFIELD MAN

N. W. Taylor, Chatfield, exhibited seven large Indian spear-points and knives at the Daily Sun office Monday afternoon. The stone relics, Mr. Taylor said, were ploughed up 25 years ago, on his farm one mile west of Porter's Bluff.

The largest point measured 10½ inches in length, and had all the appearances in shape of an Andean spear-point. The others ranged in sizes from 9½ inches down to the smallest, a fragment, of four inches in length. They were formed of various colored stones. Two of the reliefs had smoother blades than the others and did not have the notched end by which they could be fastened to a spear or arrow and Mr. Taylor believes they are knives.

Mr. Taylor said he was ploughing in a sandy field that was badly washed on his farm near Porter's Bluff, and uncovered the points. He said they were all in one group, and they were pointing directly west.

EAST NAVARRO TEAM TO ENTER DISTRICT MEET IN HILLSBORO

CLASS B COUNTY CHAMPIONS BEAT CLASS A REPRESENTATIVES IN CLOSE GAME

Rural Shade high school will represent Navarro county's interests at the district 11 basketball tournament in Hillsboro in the near future, as a result of their hair-raising win over State Home 20-19 on the Y. M. C. A. court here Wednesday night. Rural Shade last week-end won the class B interscholastic title, while State Home was representing class A last night.

In the county final game Wednesday night, Rural Shade led nearly all the way, but never had over two points advantage during the fracas. As the minutes were waning, State Home forged one or two points ahead from time to time, but Rural Shade's famous "spurts" of brilliance at crucial times, pulled them out of the hole. Numerous times during the later minutes, the score was tied, and on several occasions the tie was broken only by free tosses by either team.

Henderson's Rural Shade forward, H. C. Suggs, hit a pair of baskets during the first quarter, while R. Easterwood of State Home landed one through the hoop to make the score 4-2 end first quarter. Close at Half.

Henderson and Hopkins converged for Rural Shade in the second, while Suggs, and R. East wood got right for State Home, to leave the score 10-9 favor the B titillants as the half was encountered. Ragsdale hit a basket and Suggs converted two free throws to pull State Home's earnings to 13, in the third, while Henderson and Griffis contacted the hoop for a like number of points, and to bring Rural Shade's total score to 14, a one point advantage.

With both teams playing their daylight out, and fighting on an equal basis, the fourth game was a tie, with the game still anybody's. Henderson, Trent, and Griffis made two each for Rural Shade, while R. Easterwood made two, and Ragsdale 4 for State Home, as the game ended with the B titillants still holding to their one point margin. Numerous times in the final stanza State Home forged ahead one or two, but never more, points, and Henderson, Trent, and Griffis came to the rescue for Rural Shade. With two minutes to play, State Home was leading one point, but Henderson came to the rescue, and contributed a long shot from almost mid-court, which shot ultimately iced down the Navarro county title for his team.

M. Dunn is Rural Shade coach, and LeRoy Crabtree is the State Home skipper.

Won Four Games.

Rural Shade advanced to the B title by taking into camp four teams during the past two weekends in the annual county tournament, and by defeating Navarro, defending champions, in a whirlwind finish last Saturday night 32-30. Other teams the Dunnmen defeated were Union High, Frost, Emmett, Barry, and Navarro.

As a curtain-raising event Wednesday night the Emhouse girls defeated Navarro 19-12, in a practice game. They held the adversaries scoreless during the opening verse, and made five points to operate with Navarro and Emhouse made two each in the second, and two each in the third stanza, and three each in the fourth period.

The county girls' tournament will be held at the Y. M. C. A. court Saturdays March 4 and 11.

Belgian Cabinet Resigned Result

Vote of Censure

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Feb. 15.—(P)—The government headed by Premier de Broqueville resigned today.

The resignation followed the defeat of the government by 82 to 72 on a socialist motion censuring the minister of the interior for canceling communal elections at Hastiere.

Premier de Broqueville stated after the division that although the vote did not reflect on the government as a whole, he considered it necessary that the present cabinet resign.

With but one game to go to end the second half, Rice is leading in the county Independent basketball league to the extent they cannot be overtaken. Last night they made it four in a row by trouncing Richland 23-18, while the Deuces were sending Emhouse back home to the cellar, with a close 17-16 decision, and going into a tie for second place with the Jacks, and the Deuces, all of the Y. M. C. A. family.

Each team will play one more game, but it is impossible to oust Rice from first place, and the results will only settle certain disputes relative to second, third and fourth places.

The Y. Aces won the first half, and will open the play-off series on the mat, and Corsicana will pit one state man and three second place winners of last season's state tourney, with them.

Strange to say, the Y. Aces lost two games last night. They play two games in Dallas, then lost to their host club in Dallas.

HOLLYWOOD'S LATEST.

The latest health craze from the movie colony is one which every woman could imitate with profit to herself. It is simply to get out and ride a bicycle, hard, for several miles a day. Read Miss Forbes' chat about this.

The latest craze out here is bicycle riding for health. As you probably know, distances are great out here, so that everyone rides in motor cars—not a luxury, but a necessity in this end of the world. And with second-hand cars as cheap as one finds them here, even the poorest people manage to own and run some sort of vehicle. The result is that no one takes any exercise except that supplied by golf and tennis clubs and gymnasiums. So one of the movie stars started riding a bicycle, and in the last few weeks it has been taken up everywhere. All the smart hotels at the very fashionable Palm Springs winter resort in the desert, hire bicycles by the hour for their guests. A well known screen star can be seen on the hillside roads above Beverly for hours a day. She was one of the first to take it up. Actresses cycle around the movie lots; early evening rides are the "thing" along the quieter streets beyond Hollywood itself. Try to buy a second-hand bicycle out here! It can't be done; they've been snapped up by those who want to take up the craze, without spending more on it than they can afford.

So, if you have an old bicycle around your house, or if you have small brothers or sisters, owning one, put on a pair of "slacks," the wide trouser flannel or jersey affairs that are so smart these days, get on the wheel and do a couple of miles a day. By the time you've ridden your weak spots, you'll find out your weak spots. And the good you're riding will do you. You'll be in the vanguard in fashion, and doing yourself a lot of good as well. Besides, it saves gasoline, if you can do your errands on a bicycle instead of taking out your car.

Riding is good for the hips, the legs and the digestion. And it will certainly stir your circulation and get the blood running fast through your system, giving you a lovely complexion.

TWO NEGROES ARE HELD ON CHARGES ON CHICKEN THEFT

Jordan, justice of the peace, Wednesday morning in connection with the theft of 21 chickens from A. A. McCauley of the Frost community Sunday.

Fifteen of the chickens were recovered at a produce house in Italy, Ellis county, the following day.

The negroes were arrested at Italy and later were turned over to Navarro county officers.

Judge Jordan set the bonds of the two accused negroes at $750 in each of the two cases and remanded them to jail.

APPROPRIATION BILL FOR STATE JUDICIARY SENT TO COMMITTEE

DRASTIC CHANGES IN COURT SYSTEM AND SALARY REDUCTIONS SUGGESTED

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—(P)—Over the strenuous objection of Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, chairman of the finance committee, the senate voted today to re-refer to his committee the judiciary appropriations bill for the next biennium.

Senator Holbrook asserted that the people were demanding economy and that the quicker the senate voted to reduce the judiciary appropriations the better the people would like it. He said the finance committee already had given a judiciary bill sufficient study.

Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth led the fight to commit the bill. He stated that he too was for economy but that he believed the unjustly high fees of county officers should be cut before a reduction was made in the judge's salaries.

Senator Rawlings said he was opposed to a policy of cutting the salary of a district judge to $4,200 annually and leaving the compensation of several justices of the peace, tax collectors, assessors and other officers at $10,000 or $12,500.

The house passed the judiciary appropriations bill several days ago. The senate finance committee prepared a substitute to that bill.

The substitute would have provided that salaries of supreme court judges and judges of the court of criminal appeals be reduced from $8,000 to $6,000 annually. Judge of the civil appeals courts and the aides to the higher courts would be reduced from $7,000 to $5,250 annually and district judges from $5,000 to $4,200. The house bill proposed even greater reductions.

The vote on the Rawlings motion was 13 to 13, with Edgar E. Witt, lieutenant governor breaking the tie.

The house voted 118 to 12 to submit a constitutional amendment that would provide for extensive revision of the state's judiciary system.

Sponsored by McGregor.

The resolution was sponsored by Representative T. H. McGregor of Austin, who estimated it would save nearly $2,000,000 in the expense of judicial administration.

McGregor's resolution would affect the court of civil appeals and the district court and would eliminate the offices of the district clerk and district attorney.

District judges would become county judges with general judicial jurisdiction and also would preside over the county commissioners' court. The supreme court membership would be increased to 10 and the number of judges on the court of criminal appeals to 12.

The amendment must be approved by the senate before it can be submitted.

Hearing Postponed.

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—(P)—Representative Elbert Barron of Sherman announced that a hearing scheduled for tomorrow on a bill to prevent utilities companies from engaging in merchandising had been postponed.

The hearing had been called by the house committee on municipal and private corporations. Barron explained that this and other utility bills later were sent to a sub-committee and that a hearing would not be held until after the sub-committee had reported.

Sales Tax Plan Is Explained at Hearing

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—(P)—Opponents of state sales tax prepared to outline their case tonight in refutation of the arguments advanced by proponents of the new tax system.

The house committee on revenue and taxation last night held the first of a series of hearings on the sales tax, favored as a substitute for the state property levy by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Luther Nickels of Dallas explained the administration bill. It would impose a three per cent levy on manufacturers, jobbers and retailers. Three other bills introduced in the house would provide the tax only on the retail sales.

Nickels defended the pyramid feature of the Ferguson bill. He estimated sales taxes could be collected for $250,000 annually whereas the cost of ad valorem collections is $6,000,000 yearly.

All the proponents agreed that the sales tax was a painless form of taxation in that consumers paid it in small amounts and as they made their purchases through the year. Such a levy is greatly preferable to a tax paid in a lump sum, they said.

J. C. Cochran of San Antonio said the experience of the school district there showed that schools no longer could depend on property taxes for the needed revenue.

Representative George Parkinson of Dallas explained his bill to levy a two per cent tax on the final sale. Representative Harold Kayton of San Antonio, would levy a three per cent tax, but part of the revenue would go to counties, cities, school districts. A bill sponsored by Mayor C. M. Chambers of San Antonio would impose a two per cent tax and cities and counties would be permitted to levy one-half that amount.

Waco Senator Robbed.

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—(P)—Senator W. R. Poage of Waco lost $23 when a burglar emptied the pockets of his trousers last night.

State Five Million Fund.

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—(P)—A resolution requiring the Reconstruction Finance corporation to deposit $5,000,000 in the Home Loan Bank for the Texas district, to be used in relieving mortgaged property owners, was adopted today by the house of Texas legislature. The resolution was sponsored by Representative Pat Dwyer of San Antonio.

PRESIDENT HOOVER PLEADS FOR ACTION RESTORE PROSPERITY

GENERAL RESTORATION OF GOLD STANDARD URGED IN NEW YORK SPEECH

BY RAYMOND CROWLEY
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(P)—The valedictory of President Hoover's administration—a plea for co-operation by the peoples of the world to restore prosperity—lay before the nation today.

Speaking to 1,500 party leaders and adherents of the National Republican club, he called for "bold and courageous action" on a united world front. He urged general restoration of the gold standard as a step to rescue civilization from a threat of "generations" of depressed standards.

"I say with emphasis," he declared, "that I am not proposing this as a favor to the United States. It is the need of the whole world. The United States is so situated that it can protect itself better than almost any country on earth."

A new proposal to help stabilize the currencies of the world came from the president, and was frequently interrupted by applause. He suggested that some part of the debt payments due the United States from foreign nations might be set aside temporarily to stabilize the currencies of the world. He said:

"If some sort of international financial action is necessary to enable central banks to co-operate for the purpose of stabilizing currencies, nations should have no hesitation in joining such an operation under proper safeguards.

Bradley was rushed to the hospital in a Corley ambulance.

The shooting is reported to have occurred on a stairway in the apartment as the involved parties were returning from a trip to Waco.

Sheriff Pevhouse said that Martin telephoned him to come to town on a "matter of importance," and shortly after the sheriff was advised of the shooting.

Surrendered to Sheriff.

Martin is reported to have surrendered to Sheriff Pevhouse near the Vortex Cafe. He gave the sheriff a .32 calibre pistol containing four fired shells and one unfired. One chamber of the gun was empty.

The sheriff went to the scene of the shooting and reported that he found a .45 calibre Colt army revolver with blood-stained grip on the stairway, with two fired shells and two unfired, with two chambers empty.

Sheriff Pevhouse said Tuesday night that Martin said he (Martin) was in his room on the second floor of his residence across the hall from Mrs. Bradley's room, the wife of the wounded man, and her two children, when he heard Mrs. Bradley scream.

"Look out George, he is coming up to kill you."

No motive or reason was assigned by the defendant for the shooting.

Considerable excitement was created in the neighborhood of the affair as the six shots were fired and the resistant commotion aroused the residents of that section.

Witnesses summoned for the examining trial were ordered to return at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for the conclusion of the hearing, and Criminal District Attorney Miller stated the witnesses would be taken before the Navarro county grand jury now in session Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of the examining trial.

Sister is Witness.

Only one witness, Mrs. Lena Berry, sister of Mrs. Bradley, testified Wednesday morning. She is the wife of J. A. Berry at Dawson. She is separated from her husband. No divorce has been secured.

The witness testified that her sister and Bradley had been separated about two years, but did not know whether they were divorced.

MAN IS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED AS RESULT OF SHOOTING AFFRAY

EXAMINING TRIAL IS HELD; ASSAULT INTENT MURDER COMPLAINT FILED

George Martin was remanded to jail at the conclusion of his examining trial at 2:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in connection with the shooting of W. W. Bradley of Waco last night by Judge Sam E. Jordan. No bond was set pending the condition of the wounded man, who is in a serious condition. Hospital authorities reported the wounded man as "doing well" at that hour. Judge Jordan said he would not make a decision relative to bail before late in the afternoon.

The defendant did not take the stand at the examining trial.

Several witnesses testified Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Bradley was unable to appear. She is confined to her apartment with a badly sprained ankle, reported to have been sustained last night.

Auto Mechanic Testifies.

M. A. McGlohen, auto mechanic, driver of the car to Waco late Tuesday, testified concerning the trip to Waco with the two men. He said the women refused to return with them after he had driven against a safety zone when he was blinded by an approaching light. He denied he was drunk.

He said Martin told him that Martin left his car (here) as he was walking on the sidewalk were the ones they left in Waco.

McGlohen testified he had a .32 calibre pistol in the pocket of his car and missed it after the shooting. He said Martin did not say anything to him about getting the gun exhibited by officers as his gun.

Borrowed Car.

A. L. Bradley, Waco contractor, father of the wounded man, said his son, W. W. Bradley, borrowed his car about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

Grace Lee Lafayette, daughter of Mrs. Bradley, came to her apartment (Mrs. Bradley's) a few minutes before the shooting and told her that Mrs. Bradley had not come back from Waco with him, as she was afraid of his driving. The little girl said Martin went downstairs and she heard her mother scream and then the shooting. She said she saw Bradley on the stairs and saw blood.

In Critical Condition.

Officers stated Bradley was in a critical condition and expressed the hope that unless improvement was shown within a short time he would not survive.

Officers and officers said they based their opinion on his condition from conversation with attending physicians.

Judge Jordan said Martin would also be charged by complaint with carrying a pistol.

W. W. Bradley, about 40, Waco carpenter, is in the P. and S. Hospital in a serious condition and George Martin, formerly of Dallas, is in the Navarro county jail as a result of a shooting at a rooming house, 320 West Sixth avenue, about 11 o'clock Tuesday night.

An examining trial was in progress at noon Wednesday before Judge Sam E. Jordan, justice of the peace, for Martin, on a formal complaint for assault with intent to murder. The complaint was filed by Sheriff Rufus Pevhouse who answered the call, and the examining trial was being conducted by Mr. G. Miller and C. L. McCloud, criminal district attorney and assistant criminal district attorney, respectively.

Hospital attaches reported at noon Wednesday that Bradley was doing exceptionally well considering the graveness of his wound, but was regarded as being in a serious condition.

Bullet Entered Abdomen.

Bradley was struck in the left forearm and the bullet then entered the abdomen, ranging upward, according to attending physicians.

Bradley was rushed to the hospital in a Corley ambulance.

The shooting is reported to have occurred on a stairway in the apartment as the involved parties were returning from a trip to Waco.

Sheriff Pevhouse said that Martin telephoned him to come to town on a "matter of importance," and shortly after the sheriff was advised of the shooting.

Martin is reported to have surrendered to Sheriff Pevhouse near the Vortex Cafe. He gave the sheriff a .32 calibre pistol containing four fired shells and one unfired. One chamber of the gun was empty.

Embargo on Arms Approved by House Committee Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(P)—The house foreign affairs committee today approved the Hoover arms embargo proposal, with an amendment limiting it to the Americas.

The proposal, advocated by President Hoover, would authorize the chief executive to impose embargoes on shipments of arms and munitions to North and South American countries when there were hostilities.

It is being blocked in the senate by Senator Elbridge (R., Conn.) The embargo is opposed by arms and munitions and aircraft manufacturers and is supported by the state department and peace organizations.

Views Exchanged.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(P)—There has been an exchange of views among the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and the United States in connection with a proposal to prohibit the export of arms and ammunition to Bolivia and Paraguay, Sir John Simon told the house of commons today, when Governor Ferguson re-submitted the bill to the senate.

The foreign secretary's statement was elicited by a member who asked whether, in view of the arms embargo resolution before the United States senate, the British government would express its willingness to co-operate in such action.
